Recognition: Guidelines and Practices

- Lisbon Recognition Convention (1997)
Convention on the Recognition of Qualifications concerning Higher Education in the European Region:

  - recognition can only be refused if the qualification is substantially different from that of the host country

European Area of Recognition (EAR)

- provides recommendations on a number of key recognition topics such as accreditation, learning outcomes and transparency.

UK NARIC Evaluation Criteria

- Accommodates the different education systems in England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland
- Methodology based upon the key principles of credential evaluation
- Comparisons derived using the NARIC Band Framework as a reference point
- One criterion does not dominate in the assessment procedure
- Considers the needs of the national system in question
- Evaluation Criteria also need to reflect the concerns of the receiving national system. These concerns center on whether internationally trained applicants are:
  - sufficiently well-trained to perform a certain occupational or professional role, or
  - adequately qualified to enter the further or higher education system in the country in question.

UK NARIC Band Framework

- Serves as a reference point
- Designed to ensure accuracy and consistency of comparability statements
- Designed to represent all different types of international qualification and provide meaningful linkages to the most similar UK awards
- The term Band is used to reflect the broad grouping of international qualifications that may be categorised together
- Accommodates and reflects value comparisons of a wide range of international awards and transferable skills
