

Expand your international cooperation.
Study, teach and research in Slovenia.

Supported by

We kindly invite you to cooperate and exchange your knowledge with Slovenian higher education institutions!

The programme Slovene scholarship fund offers you this exceptional possibility to study, teach or research at Slovenian educational institutions and work with their representatives. During your stay you can tap into the educational process of high quality and globally recognized incubators of knowledge – universities, faculties, institutes, research centres, etc. – and at the same time enjoy the beautiful scenery that Slovenia offers.

Find a Slovenian partner, apply for funds and enable an international experience for your students, lecturers, professional staff, the local environment...

Bring an added value to your institution and expand international cooperation.
