

The Co-operative Society Anthea, edizioni per l'intercultura, was established in 2010.

The Cooperative is active in the following sectors:

- language training
- intercultural mediation
- teaching of Italian as a Second Language
- test center for CELI exam, the certification of language proficiency in Italian of the University of Perugia
- publishing teaching materials (manuals, magazines and educational games) for learning Italian either as foreign or second language.
- publishing books on intercultural themes

Our products:

- Manual of intercultural language education for primary school
- Text on learning a second language and construction of socio-affective relationship in the classroom
- Educational games for learning Italian
- Internationally distributed magazine for learning Italian.

Other activities or interests:

- research on books for children
- analysis of textbooks, with particular reference to those of language education
- research on school textbooks with an intercultural orientation
- insights on pedagogy, education and intercultural teaching of school subjects with particular reference to intercultural language education
- insights on approaches and methods of education with special reference to cooperative learning, active methodologies and peer education
- Research on European and national standards and guidelines in reference to intercultural education and the strategies for inclusion acceptance and integration of pupils who do not speak Italian and migrants.

ANTHEA Soc. Coop.

Sede legale: Via Veturia, 81 00181 Roma

P. IVA 10989611008

Tel. 067826115 Cell. 345 3944704

e-mail: didattica@antheaonline.it

www.antheaonline.it